

No flight today due primarily to freezing rain and wind. Pilot off-day was also observed, which reset the crew clock to allow more flexibility regarding planned activities during the coming week.